Make Way for Books
Part III Line 4a: Statement of Program Accomplishments
6/30/25

In 2024-2025, 31,576 children, parents, and educators received Make Way for Books programming. Across all programs and initiatives, 65,389 books were distributed.

Make Way for Books Professional Development Programs (The Story Project and Cuentame):
The Story Project serves educators at childcare centers, preschools, and home-based sites. By providing educators with new skills, knowledge, and tools, we support the early literacy and language development of the children in their care. Educators receive coaching and professional development from Literacy Specialists who provide individualized support, science-backed lessons to build children's emergent language and literacy skills, and a learning community where educators can find support. Participating educators also receive up to 36 high-quality books for use in the classroom, and each student receives a book to take home.

These programs equip early educators in childcare and preschool settings with coaching and resources. As a result of the program, 98% of educators gained skills and knowledge to support children's emergent literacy skills. In 2024-25, the program served over 8,641 young children, parents, and educators through professional development programming and services. 30,251 books were distributed via this program. Make Way for Books has impacted thousands of children, families, and educators across Arizona through this strategy for nearly thirty years.

Make Way for Books Family Education and Literacy Programs (Story School, Make Way for Books App, Community Engagement):
Families join a community cohort for a series of 12 sessions led by qualified Literacy Specialists. The evidence-based program offers four enrollment cycles that typically take place during the academic year, but summer sessions may be scheduled if needed. The 12 sessions help families build skills in their children, including phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension - all foundational to learning to read. Families learn effective read-aloud strategies to make reading at home more engaging and to reinforce literacy goals in everyday routines. They receive up to 22 high-quality books and access to the bilingual Make Way for Books App that provides activities, digital books, and educational tips accessible anytime, enabling parents and caregivers to reinforce learning at home.

These programs feature a strong parent engagement focus, empowering parents with skills and resources to support their children's literacy development through bilingual, evidence-based learning experiences in trusted community spaces. As a result, last year 94% of parents/caregivers gained skills to support children's emergent literacy skills. 35,138 books were distributed via this program. In 2024-25, our Family Education and Literacy Strategy impacted nearly 23,000 young children and their families.
